

P R E M I E R I N G :

GEORGETOWN'S BRUNCH SERIES

A scintillating biweekly brunch of Hoyas (&friends), bringing together changemakers within startup, corporate, NGO, and art communities.

HOSTED BY ALUMNI

JOHN LEARY & DIANA TSAI

BRUNCH TOPIC 001

James Altrucher's Provocative Cheat Sheet for Starting & Running a Business—do you agree or disagree with validity of these points in terms of business in China?

<http://jamesaltucher.quora.com/The-Ultimate-Cheat-Sheet-For-Starting-And-Running-A-Business>

To receive an invitation, please read this article and consider its relevance to your experience in China. Then RSVP Diana.Tsai@bundshop.com by FRIDAY SEPT 6TH to receive details for brunch [this Sunday, September 8]. Get excited for a vibrant conversation.

JOHN LEARY graduated from Georgetown School of Foreign Service and UC Hastings College of the Law. He heads the Shanghai office of White & Case, an international law firm based in New York. His focus is mergers and acquisitions, representing a range of clients from multinationals in multibillion-dollar mergers to startups in initial rounds of funding. Even after 8 years in Shanghai, he calls San Francisco home.

DIANA TSAI demands not only change but true transformation. Trained for diplomacy in US-China relations at Georgetown's School of Foreign Service, she pivoted instead to private enterprise to create scalable business solutions to social challenges. As CEO of BUNDSHOP.COM, Diana architects corporate partnerships and business development strategy for a portfolio of more than 50 emerging Chinese brands, with clients ranging from luxury conglomerates to international hotels.